FEDERATION ASKS FOR ONE DEAN AND IMPROVED SCHOOLS

Requests State University to Better Its Department of Domestic Science.

Opening Session of State Federation of Clubs.

AND INTERESTING ADDRESSES

Emerging from the brilliant social function of last evening into the business session of this morning, at 10 o'clock, was a transition easily accomplished by the delegates to the Kentucky Federation of Women's clubs. Through the film of flowers, interest in dress and other feminine manifestations, an earnest spirit of work and service was visible. In fact as one expressed it, the frumpy shows that club women are not "unsexed" and the other part shows the position of the new woman in modern life.

Despite threatening rains, the attendance at this morning's session was large, and as luncheon was served in the building the delegates were unimpaired by the weather, only they were in the building. The buzz of animated conversation stopped when Mrs. Letcher Riker, state president, called the meeting to order and a quartet composed of Mesdames Hart, Gray, Lewis and Coleman sang, as the first number on the program. Following the music, the Rev. J. R. Henry, pastor of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church invoked the divine blessing on the meeting.

Miss Anna Webb, in the address of welcome to the federation, made a distinct departure from conventional welcoming addresses. She spoke of the "renaissance" of woman, with the coming of club work, dwell on the power of the federated clubs in every walk of life. The scope of the federation is large enough. Miss Webb stated to include all women and prejudices are being eliminated by its efforts. Miss Webb believed that better wifehood and motherhood should come from the club work, and that whatever our grandmothers may have been, the woman of today have a new role to play. Her address was heartily applauded.

Mrs. Luella Boyd, of Covington, responded for the delegates, happily expressing their appreciation and admiration for the efforts of Paducah club women in entertaining the federation. Following Mrs. Boyd's address, Mrs. Letcher Riker, state president, addressed the federation in a review of the work for the year and outlined the aspirations of the federation in the future. Mrs. Riker said Kentucky has been asleep and it remains for the women to awaken the state from its lethargy along many lines. Membership in clubs should not make a difference in church relations or any other duties of women. Mrs. Riker advised, as the federation is not meant as a substitute but an addition to woman's field of endeavors. She recommended that only real workers should be left on committees.

Want Woman Dean. Mrs. Edmund Post, third vice-president, was the first delegate to get the recognition of the chair, and she moved that a telegram be sent to the board of trustees of the Kentucky university, in session today at Lexington, urging them to appoint a woman with university training as dean of women for the university, with full membership in the faculty and that the department of science be enlarged to the standard of other state universities.

Miss Elizabeth Sinnott made a report from the credentials committee which the secretary read. Miss Lillian Lindsey, of Frankfort, read the minutes of the last annual meeting were adopted after discussion. Following Miss Lindsey, Miss Haldon Hardin, of Harrodsburg, corresponding secretary, gave her report. Mrs. Charles P. Weaver, of Louisville, general federation secretary, reported, as did Mrs. H. C. Muir, treasurer, of Nicholasville.

Committee Reports. Clever methods devised by Mrs. Thurston Ballard, of Louisville, chairman of the educational committee, brought into the treasury of the committee for use in improving educational facilities and conditions in Kentucky $3,068.20. This large amount raised during the panic period was secured by making individual appeals for small sums, a total of 32,915 circular letters having been sent out during the year. The federation adopted a motion unanimously expressing its appreciation of Mrs. Ballard's fine work.

Miss Hardin, corresponding secretary, in her report showed that 17 new clubs have been added to the

Record Time Made by Coey Balloon, Covering Eight Hundred Miles in Eleven Hours During Night Time

Aeronauts Disappointed, Because They Did Not Get Distance Record on Account of Rain.

Watertown, S. D., June 3.—Compelled to alight because of rain, the Chicago balloon, owned by Charles A. Coey, and driven by Capt. C. L. Bumbaugh and Charles Leitchell, which left Quincy, Ill., last night at 6 o'clock, landed this morning at 5 o'clock, in the country, 8 miles south of Clear Lake, S. D., covering over 800 miles in eleven hours and securing the world speed record with an average of 75 miles an hour.

Capt. Bumbaugh was bitterly disappointed in not breaking the long distance record, and his failure to win the Lahm cup. This afternoon he said that had he not encountered rain he would have easily outdistanced all previous records.

Leaving Quincy, the aeronauts went west to Kirkville, Mo., and from there due north. After leaving Kirkville, neither man in the balloon spoke until after alighting. When struck by the storm, Capt. Bumbaugh made an ascent of 6,500 feet, but could not avoid it. He then dropped 1,600 feet in one minute.

Keep After Record. Mr. Leitchell left Clear Lake for Chicago, Capt. Bumbaugh remaining behind to pack the balloon for the trip by rail. He said he would make another effort to win the Lahm cup. "I have great confidence in my balloon," he said. "It is a marvel. Not a particle of gas escaped in the long flight which was without incident. I am confident that this will prove the fastest air vessel of the present age, and as soon as weather conditions set-

Hundred to One Shot Winner.

London, June 3.—Signorinetta, a hundred to one shot, won the English derby. The entries of August Belmont and W. K. Vanderbilt were unopposed heavily backed. King Edward and thousands of race lovers witnessed the race. The king's entry was badly beaten.

BROWN CONSENTS TO RUN FOR CITY JAILER IN FALL

Due to the request of business men and Republicans as well as some prominent Democrats, City Jailer Wade Brown has consented to be a candidate for the position of city jailer before the Republican convention. Since his inauguration into office Captain Brown has made an enviable record. Besides the handling of city prisoners, kindness, where it is best, Jailer Brown has done wonders about the city hall in repairing and cleaning up. Captain Brown passed the civil service examination, and was offered an excellent position by the government, but citizens insisted that he should continue to serve the city.

DYNAMITE FEARED

Cleveland, June 3.—Police are guarding the Vandorn Iron Works, fearing an attempt to dynamite it. A steel derrick was blown up last night and the plant was badly damaged. Fourteen sticks of dynamite were found today. It is believed enemies marked the plant for destruction. The company had no labor troubles and is at a loss to explain the attempt.

PANAMA CAUSING MUCH CONCERN TO ADMINISTRATION

Washington, June 3.—The government is preparing to send 200 additional marines to Panama to keep order during the presidential election. Parties there are in such a desperate fight, that threats of violence are being made against the United States property in the hope of causing the United States to interfere and manage the election. The situation is causing great concern and steps will be taken to prevent trouble.

JUDGE ROBBINS AS CHAIRMAN WOULD PLEASE BECKHAM

That is Tip That Comes From Louisville, Concerning Democratic Convention.

Governor Would be National Committeeman.

SOMETHING IN BRYAN DEAL

Louisville, Ky., June 3. (Special.)—Beckham men want Judge Robbins of Mayfield, to preside over the Lexington convention.

It is known that the Beckham forces won a slight victory, at least, in the selection of Lexington for the convention meeting, though that was made possible through the control of the state organization, giving that faction an advantage in the fight. It is believed to be Beckham's ambition to become national committeeman from Kentucky, succeeding Urey Woodson, and there will be a lively fight for control of the state convention.

That Beckham will be one of the Big Four to the Denver convention is conceded, and he hopes to control a sufficient number of delegates in the state convention to name the delegates from the districts to the national convention, who will elect the national committeeman. While Urey Woodson is friendly to Bryan, the latter was sufficiently interested in Mr. Beckham's success to come to Kentucky and stump the state for him, and afterwards plead with the state legislature to elect him United States senator. In return Beckham's followers pledged the state to Bryan, and Beckham would not be opposed by the national organization in his fight at Denver.

MRS. WALLACE'S FUNERAL

The funeral of Mrs. E. E. Wallace will take place at St. Francis de Sales Catholic church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The pallbearers will be: James Hofflich, Pat Lally, Daniel Kane, John Schroeder, Edward McKinney and Ed Hannan.

NEW POSTAL RATE

Washington, June 3.—Postmaster General Meyer announced that beginning October 1, letter postage will be reduced to two cents an ounce to Great Britain. Arrangements are just effected with the British government.

SEVEN CONTEST FOR NOMINATION OF REPUBLICANS

Chicago, June 3.—Seven presidential booms are in full blast. The race is fast against the field. The "allies" declare 300 delegates only are pledged to Taft, and predict a dark horse will win or the convention will become deadlocked and will renominate Roosevelt. The settlement of contests by the national committee will have great effect on the result and there will be a hard fight to seat delegates. Unprejudiced observers declare Taft will be nominated on first ballot.

Lodge for Chairman. Washington, June 3. (Special.)—Senator John Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, a Taft man, is practically decided on as permanent chairman of the Chicago convention.

FIRE THREATENS MINE

Marion, Ill., June 3.—The Keystone and Big Muddy mine, east of here and near Pittsburg, one of the best properties in the southern Illinois coal fields, is now afire. It has been burning for three days and so far efforts to check it have been in vain. The mine will be flooded as a last resort.

UNVEIL MONUMENT AT DR. NEWELL'S GRAVE

Paris, Tenn., June 3.—Yesterday afternoon a handsome monument which had been erected in Maplewood cemetery to the memory of the Rev. Thomas J. Newell, D. D., by the Woodmen of the World was unveiled in the presence of the largest audience ever assembled there. The ceremonies were in charge of Brownsville lodge, of which Dr. Newell was a member at the time of his sudden death. It was assisted by the Paris Big Sandy, Cottage Grove, Puryear and Whitlock lodges. Besides the large crowd of citizens present there were 350 Woodmen in line.

Dr. Newell was formerly pastor of the Broadway Methodist church at Paducah.

NO INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMMANDER BY WALBERT CAMP

Instructed delegates will not be sent to the Confederate reunion at Birmingham by the J. T. Walbert camp of this city. The question of instructing for a commander to succeed General Stephen Lee was discussed last night, but Captain James Koger and Mr. B. H. Scott, the camp delegates, will be left free to vote for a man whom they think is the logical successor, after they get on the ground.

A committee on resolutions was appointed last night to draw up resolutions on the death of General Lee, which will report in the next meeting of the camp. The committee was J. M. Brown, R. J. Barber and R. M. Miles.

Among the local veterans who will attend the annual reunion will be: James Gish, Captain James Koger, R. M. Miles, J. A. Potter and B. H. Scott.

W. B. SMITH ALLOWED BAIL PENDING APPEAL

Murphysboro, Ill., June 3.—James S. Hall and W. B. Smith, who were convicted February 8 of conspiring to defraud the Elksville (Ill.) State bank of more than $5,000, and was placed in the Chester penitentiary March 12 to commence a five year sentence, have been released from that prison on $3,000 bond pending a review of the case by the appellate court. Both were bank presidents. Smith was once vice president of the Globe Bank and Trust company of Paducah.

A. F. OF L. MEETS TO OUTLINE CAMPAIGN

Chicago, June 3.—The political campaign of the American Federation of Labor will be started next week. The executive council will meet to outline plans. The conference is usually held in Washington, but President Gompers regards Chicago as the political storm center. He wants to get the labor propaganda under way before the Republican convention, with the hope of influencing the convention to endorse labor planks.

Trains Collide While Signal Is Being Changed and One Is Killed and Several Injured at Jackson

Late Passenger Follows Other Into "Y" Track and Strikes Rear End of Other—Strange Accident Inside Yards.

Jackson, Tenn., June 3.—The new Birmingham train of the Illinois Central, which has been in operation only three days, collided with the rear of the Water Valley passenger in the yards here Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, fatally injuring a negro, seriously injuring a number of passengers and badly demolishing a Pullman sleeper and the engine. The injured:

George Payne, negro, legs cut off; internally injured and bruised.

Joseph H. Pettyman, of New York, internally injured and bruised.

Miss Jessie Renfro, Fulton, Ky., gash on back of head and badly bruised.

Willett, baggage man, of Jackson, back and side injured.

Bose Lasley, engineer, seriously injured.

Two boys and several other passengers, names unknown, badly shaken up.

The negro Payne was beneath the Water Valley train when the collision occurred. He heard the train coming and attempted to escape, getting all of his body out but his legs. The Water Valley train was standing when struck by the through passenger.

The Pullman sleeper on the Water Valley train was badly demolished. The accident happened in a peculiar manner. The Birmingham train is due five minutes before the Water Valley train, but was late on this occasion. The Water Valley train found the way clear and ran into a "Y" to change engines. While the lights were being changed and before the red signal could be thrown on the Birmingham train it ran in on the "Y," finding no light out at all, and struck the Water Valley train unaware.

EVELYN'S TESTIMONY CAUSE OF OBJECTION

New York, June 3.—James B. Regan, manager of the Knickerbocker hotel, where Evelyn Thaw was asked to leave the dining room when dining with E. R. Thomas, filed answer to Evelyn's suit for $25,000 damages. He asserts Evelyn's testimony at her husband's trial makes her an objectionable character and that keeping company with Thomas caused a scandal.

"BUSINESS IS IMPROVING EVERYWHERE" IS CHICAGO BANKER'S SUMMARY OF IT

everywhere. It is a drug in New York.

"I look for easy money for a long time, certainly until the crops begin to move. The usual squeeze about that time will not be so much in evidence as formerly."

"There has been an extraordinary accumulation of funds by the people, much of which will go into securities as soon as they realize that bedrock has been reached. I believe the worst of the situation is behind us, in respect to the securities market as otherwise."

"Manufacturers are not in the money market yet. Many of them have funds available for use at any time. General business throughout the country is marked by an extremely low level of stocks on hand, people having bought from hand to mouth. A more liberal policy should develop with the crops, which are the best all around for this season of the year."

"The amended Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill should have a good effect sentimentally, though I doubt whether it will ever be used."

REGIE BUYERS WILL SUE FOR GUARD EXPENSES

Cities and Towns in Black Patch May Pay Cost of Protecting Property.

Account Already Submitted to City of Paducah.

MURRAY EXPENSE IS GREATEST

The city of Paducah, the town of Murray or Calloway county and other towns and counties in the tobacco growing district where night rider depredations and scares have existed will have to reimburse the Regie tobacco buyers for the amounts they paid out for special guards to protect their property or face expensive law suits, according to information that has been received in Paducah.

T. J. Stahl & company, the Regie buyers of Paducah, have already made out their bill against the city of Paducah amounting to $236 and since the council refused payment are preparing to bring suit in circuit court to recover. It is said that it is the opinion of state officials that the city must pay the bill. Mr. Stahl claims ex-Mayor Yelzer gave him authority to put on guards at city expense and that Detective Moore selected the men and put them in charge of the warehouse at night.

Probably the heaviest expense the tobacco buyers were subjected to was at Murray, where the county and city officials are said to have refused guards and they were put on by the buyers themselves. Four to six men were regularly employed, while on nights when attacks were expected, notably the night of the fourth Monday in March when, according to the later confessions of a night rider, was the time a raid was planned on the town, twenty-five guards were put on. At Mayfield, Fulton, Wickliffe and other places where independent buyers were stationed guards were put on at private expense and an effort will be made to recover the amounts expended.

Pooled Burley Sold. Lexington, Ky., June 3.—The American Tobacco company has purchased 400,000 pounds of burley tobacco from the Burley Tobacco society at the graded price. This embraces all the 1906 crop below the $14 grade.

CIDER RELEASED

The cider that was confiscated by the government for an alleged violation of the pure food laws, has been released by Deputy United States Marshal Elwood Neel. The cider was shipped from the east to the O. L. Gregory Vinegar company and a car load was seized here and stored in the basement of the custom house. The marking on the barrels was for purposes of identification and not to deceive the public.

MAYOR JAMES P. SMITH PAYS HIS SALARY BACK.

City taxes are still coming in, and the number of early tax payers is increasing every year. Just before the penalty goes into effect it is difficult to pay taxes owing to the crowds and City Treasurer John J. Dorian is especially pleased at the rate money is coming into the coffers of the city. Today at noon $2,500 had been taken in, but the inclement weather kept many citizens from paying. Mayor James P. Smith, who is the largest individual taxpayer in the city, paid his morning $2,000, lacking a few cents, as his taxes to the city. The mayor is always an early payer, and always pays his taxes at one time.

POLITICS CHARGED

BY IRA JULIAN FOR HIS DIS-MISSAL BY L. & N.

Employment of Beckham and Mc-Quown By Railroad to Influeence Courts.

Frankfort, Ky., June 3.—Judge
 Tra Julian, of this city, for 25 years attorney for the Louisville & Nashville Railroad company, made public correspondence between himself and the company relating to his removal May 1, and the appointment of the new law firm, McQuown & Beckham, in his place. General Counsel Henry L. Stone wrote him that the change was made for the best interests of the company.

Judge Julian, in a letter to Stone, alleges that the deal was made by the company because its attorneys thought Governor Beckham, through politics, could influence the courts.
 The letter contains this paragraph:

"I assume that with our honored circuit judge and several of the justices of our court of appeals all recently appointed by Governor Beckham, and with the law partner of Governor Willson and Mr. McQuown, chairman of the Democratic state central and executive committees recently employed by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad company, now feels prepared for any emergency in the courts, and Governor Beckham is amply equipped with his new alliance with this great corporation for his political future. But in this connection allow me to assure you (after long contract with them) that these incorruptible judges and public officials, at the proper time, will surprise you even more than the contents of my letter, by a square deal for and against the Louisville & Nashville Railroad company."

A Twenty Year Sentence.
 "I have just completed a twenty year health sentence, imposed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which cured me of bleeding piles just twenty years ago," writes O. S. Woolver, of LeRayville, N. Y. Bucklen's Arnica Salve heals the worst sores, boils, burns, wounds and cuts in the shortest time. 25c at all druggists.

Strawberries Canned Without Cook- ing.

Have your jars perfectly clean and dry, then take equal parts of fresh berries and sugar, and mix and mash thoroughly. To accomplish this, take only a small quantity in a dish at a time, that you may be sure every berry is mashed. Put into the jars, and seal immediately. In-verting the jar for a short time before putting away.

The work is easily and quickly done, as there is no heating. M-berries canned in this way last summer kept perfectly and have preserved their delicious flavor unimpaired.

CONTRACTORS TO REPAIR STREETS

Decision of Board of Public Works Last Night.

E. C. Terrell Has Not Complied With Contract to Keep Brick Streets in Repair.

SOME LITIGATION IS EXPECTED.

Litigation is in sight for the city over the downtown brick streets, unless Contractor E. C. Terrell pays more attention to the instructions of the board of public works to repair his contract work, than he has paid in the past. The board in last night's meeting issued orders for the city to repair the streets and will charge the costs to Contractor Terrell, and if he does not pay the charges, sue him for the cost of maintenance, under the provisions of the bond he made when awarded the contract. Charles Smedley has been engaged by the board to do the work. Contractor Smedley is at present repairing Broadway, and from there will go to North Third street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue, part of Mr. Terrell's contract. The U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty company is bond for Mr. Terrell.

Water street from Broadway to Kentucky avenue will be reconstructed with concrete pavements, by Contractor T. J. Sale, who had the lowest bid of those submitted to the board yesterday. His bid was $1,376; M. H. Weikel, $1,498.10; G. W. Katterjohn, $1,509. City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., will draw up the contract with Mr. Sale at once.

Tenth street reconstruction work from Broadway to Kentucky avenue has been delayed by an error in the ordinance providing for the improvement. The ordinance put the cost on the abutting property owners, whereas the agreement with the city when the property was acquired for street purposes, was that the city should pay for improvements. Concrete sidewalks and vitrified brick paving are provided for this street.

City Engineer L. A. Washington was authorized to employ inspectors for not exceeding $75 a month, who will oversee the improvements on Broadway and Jefferson street from Ninth street to Eleventh street by Contractor George Weikel.

City Street Inspector J. J. Read has tabulated statistics showing the comparative cost of the street department to the city for the last three years, between the months of January and June. The board desires to reduce operating expenses to a minimum.

The Paducah Traction company was again requested to lower its rails at several points to conform with the street grade. The city engineer was instructed to give the grade on Monroe street near Tenth, to drain that point of surface water. A request from Garner Bros. for an alley over the city property in the rear of the city hall to their store on Third street was refused for lack of space. Otis Overstreet's request for the improvement of an alley behind his property was referred to the council.

Owing to the absence from the city of members Louis Kolb, Jr., and F. W. Katterjohn the meeting yesterday was held at 7 o'clock in the evening instead of 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Daily Thought.

A good life keeps off wrinkles.—German.

A NEW INDUSTRY.

It is perhaps with as much astonishment as local pride that Paducah citizens learned for the first time this morning that the Standard Oil company is a Paducah enterprise. Heretofore we have been under the impression that the Standard Oil company was a commercial trust of many aliases, with a different name in every state where it operates, and its headquarters on Wall Street, New York. But, not so; for we read in the News-Democrat in reference to the removal of the tanks from Tenth and Monroe streets, Paducah: "The headquarters of the company have been in their present location for a number of years and the fire which occurred a few days ago was the first for many years. To force the company now to move its headquarters solely because of a complaint on the part of a few nearby citizens would not only work a great hardship on the company but on Paducah as well for in the measure that every industry is made to suffer, the city as a whole suffers proportionately."

"The present location of the plant is one decidedly isolated and in the event a forced movement was made some other locality and possibly one not nearly so desirable in point of safety would be selected."

Isn't it inspiring to think that our "industries" such as the Standard Oil company, find an ever ready champion in the News-Democrat, which feels that a "great hardship" will be imposed on John D. Rockefeller and H. H. Rogers, if their tanks in Paducah are removed outside the city to a point "not nearly so desirable." Not only will John D. Rockefeller and H. H. Rogers be made to suffer according to the News-Democrat, but "Paducah as well." The organ of the Standard Oil and "kindred industries" does not say how Paducah will suffer. We could have wished for something more explicit. We trust this is not a covert threat that the Standard Oil company will move away from Paducah and not let us have any fore coal oil or gasoline to burn, unless we permit its tank "headquarters" to remain where they will jeopardize the heart of the city. The News-Democrat might conceive of something as terrible as that; but the tender hearts of H. H. Rogers and John D. Rockefeller, that pulsate in sympathy with all humanity could not entertain such a fiendish revenge. No, no, it cannot be that!

The News-Democrat is scornful of the "nearby citizens." It does seem strange that the people, who live closest to the tanks, and see the tanks passing day by day and the sparks flying over those tanks every night; that trembled as they beheld flames leaping high around the tank "headquarters" of the Standard Oil company lest their own homes might be consumed, should be the first to complain? One would have expected people living beyond Wallace park to be the first to complain, or the business men on Second street.

We do not understand why the News-Democrat did not attack Fire Chief Wood and the board of police and fire commissioners for their silly alarm over the condition at the Standard Oil "headquarters" for its tanks. Chief Wood, who has been fighting fires in and around Paducah for a score of years, says to the general council: "I would recommend for the safety of the lives and property in that vicinity that the tanks be removed." It does seem a shame to put a great hardship on Messrs. Rockefeller and Rogers simply for the sake of the "lives and property in that vicinity." The Standard Oil has been in the present location for a number of years. It has the first right. Other people should have built elsewhere. They should have built Paducah north and south and left the Standard Oil company in exclusive possession of the railroad line.

But instead of declaring the Standard Oil tank "headquarters" to be safe the News-Democrat refers to gasoline engines run by incompetent hands, which it says are more dangerous. We do not know to whose engine it refers; but if he knows of any that are menacing the city, the public spirit, which impels him to rush to the defense of the "industry" on this occasion, should impel the editor to notify Fire Chief Wood, if he has any confidence in the chief, and we feel sure the menace will be ended. That one menace exists, does not excuse the existence of another.

PROTECTION.

We have the highest regard for the adversary, who can by subtle discrimination sustain a point to its logical end, even when that conclusion shapes our own argument contrary to our wishes or design; but for the contravertalist, who far the sake of controversy, or to sustain a false premise, misquotes or puts a false construction on a statement, or refuses to discriminate, where an obvious difference lies, we have the most profound contempt. In a long article about the tariff a local contemporary undertakes to say that protectionists think "high prices are desirable in themselves," and concludes that there fore to be a protectionist one must think that "scarcity is preferable to plenty," because high prices and the relation of supply to demand are inseparably connected.

Carried away by its own fancy our contemporary conceives the following: "Therefore you reach the inevitable conclusion that scarcity is preferable to plenty. You contend that famine and its exorbitant exactions is a blessing to the human race, and plenty with its comparatively low prices is a blighting curse."

Now, that isn't a deduction, at all. It is a concoction.

The trouble with the Bryan school of political economy, is that it tucks one idea under its arm, and tries to break through the line of opposing conditions and circumstances like a football player to make a touch down. He argues this way: The protective tariff by shutting out foreign competition increases the price. Therefore the protectionist must favor high prices. To make prices high the production must be small, as compared with consumption. If prices are so high that no one can buy things, or things are so scarce that the price is prohibitive, then that is the ultimate result of any sort of a protective tariff. On the other hand, the free trader says, "when things are cheap I can buy more, thereby creating a demand, and as long as there is a demand and I keep on selling, I shall keep on making more money with which to buy things that will stimulate production and give more people work and at the same time make things cheap by making them plenty, etc., etc."

Conceding that cheapness and plenty are concomitants; that when overproduction takes place, production will continue at the same rate and everything will be given away and house rent will be free, eventually, we should vote unanimously for free trade and the millennium. But our experience of one administration with the tariff removed, taught us that when the tariff came off, pauper made goods of Europe flooded the country, American manufacturers were forced to reduce the price to meet this foreign competition, and in order to do it, they were compelled to lop off their heaviest expense—labor—and wages were reduced. The reduction of wages reduced the buying capacity of the country, and the imports and home made goods combined to cause over-production.

Then what resulted? American production stopped, as it always must when the market is overstocked, and American laboring men were thrown out of employment, that our contemporary might enjoy cheap times and plenty.

The protective tariff, the right kind of tariff, does not restrict production; but it expands the demand for American made goods by prohibiting the importation of the cheap stuff from Europe. There are two things aimed at in the protective tariff: the protection of American industries in new lines, so as to stimulate both the manufacture of the finished product and the cultivation, if may be, of the raw material. The other is the fixing of an exclusive market for American made goods at a price that will enable the manufacturer to pay good wages. Haven't the theory made good?

We have just passed through a financial panic, caused by our unfortunate financial system, and while loss of means caused a suspension of production, there has been no material reduction in wages for such as remained employed, and as mills resume the old wage scales go into effect.

The protectionist does not desire high prices for their own sake, but he does know that cheap times are hard times, and that he wants prices where good wages may be paid. Nor does the protectionist adopt the theory that the higher the tariff the better. Each article in the schedule should be regarded with a view to accomplishing the twofold purpose we have just mentioned. When the next congress meets, the Dingley schedules will be changed, and probably some schedules scaled down and others raised.

We are not so bigoted as to believe that there were not abuses of the Dingley tariff. There is always that danger of some interests by hook or crook gaining some advantages; but take it all in all, the Dingley tariff sustained the American policy well throughout its term of service, developed America industrially and commercially and made us a rich and powerful nation.

It will not do to discuss the protective tariff as if it was some measure hoisted on the American people by special interests. A huge majority of the American people have voted for it for 48 years, and Jackson and Clay before that were moderate protectionists.

Roosevelt's and McKinley's majorities were tariff majorities. Heretofore our tariff has been constructed only with a view to its commercial and industrial advantages. With the adoption of our reciprocity treaties, flexible provisions that will benefit the consumers and the manufacturers both to a greater extent, are secured. As our statecraft improves, we shall improve our tariff regulations, and adjust our internal affairs more harmoniously. That is something that can be said for the Republican party. In all the years of its existence it has not stood still, except on principle. In the practical matters of government it has ever been the progressive party, adjusting itself to new conditions, meeting them and producing results. It is this fact that has attracted the young men to it, constantly replenishing its resources and giving it new life and new ideas every four years.

The Republican party has never yet failed to reflect the progressive sentiment of the majority of the people of the country. When it does, the Democratic party, or some new party will wrest the reins from its hands. Until then, no platform and no orator can stop the growing majority of the dominant party. Above all, the policy of protection is the American policy. It is still susceptible of improvements. It is not a divine institution; simply a human instrument that has been tested in every conceivable way and found serviceable for the purpose for which it was intended. When the tariff is revised, it will be revised by protectionists and according to the best modern interpretation of protection to American working men.

JEFF DAVIS GETS NAME LEFT OUT OF DENVER BIG FOUR

Little Rock, Ark., June 3.—The name of United States Senator Jeff Davis was hissed at every mention in the Democratic state convention today, which nominated four delegates at large to the Democratic national convention. Instructed them for Bryan, endorsed the state ticket nominated at the recent primaries and heard a resolution pledging the party to state-wide prohibition.

The day's developments showed a clean cut victory for Acting Governor X. O. Piddall, who was selected temporary chairman of the convention. When the ballots were counted it was seen that Senator James P. Clarke, Governor-elect W. G. Donaghey, James M. Harrod and Secretary of State O. C. Ludwig had been elected delegates at large.

The prohibition question was presented by State Senator Amis, the Hot Springs reformer, but no action was taken upon it.

GOOD RAIN

Paducah was visited by a storm last night about 8 o'clock, but besides a heavy downpour of rain there was little damage. Lightning struck a pole near the Union station and put out the lights. The storm came from the southwest, and the wind blew quite hard for a time. Rain fell in a downpour from 8 o'clock to midnight. After 12 o'clock the rain ceased somewhat, but at 5 o'clock this morning it began again, and throughout the day there were occasional sprinkles. The rain was a general one, and all of the towns in the county report a copious fall of rain and a high wind, but no damage. The farms were becoming dry, and the rain will be a boon to the garden truck and tobacco, although plowing will be set back.

TAGGING PETS

In order to save their pet dogs, many owners are still taking out licenses. City Clerk Maurice McIntyre at noon had issued 255 tags, which means a revenue of $214.80 to the city. Of the number only 28 are females. The tags have been issued so rapidly that the numbers are well up into the hundreds. The fine water spaniel dog of W. C. Dassing has the honor of wearing tag 23, but she is a brave dog and makes the other pets skidoo.

Brave actions never wait a trumpet.—Italian.

THE VANISHING FLEETS

By ROY NORTON

ILLUSTRATED BY A. WEIL

The black hull of a South American tramp steamer hove into sight beyond Fastnet, and instituted a rapid interchange of signals. The men on shore, other with blank dismay, and then, fearing that there had been a misunderstanding, and failing to grasp suddenly a significance so terrible in its import, requested that the signals be repeated. There could be no doubt of their correct interpretation. In one hour all England knew beyond cavil that her fleet had met the same fate as that which had overtaken Japan's. The message in brief was that the Esperanto had picked up in mid ocean, floating on a life raft torn from its moorings, a sailor wearing the uniform of the Dreadnought. The man was almost dead from exposure, and had not yet recovered sufficiently to give a coherent account of what had taken place.

No ship ever sailed into Southampton that attracted the attention given to the Esperanto. Trainload after trainload of excursionists, farmers within a day's drive, and pedestrians from near by swarmed to Southampton, forming an excited and almost uncontrollable gathering. Tugboats hastened out to meet the incoming steamer, which carried the only living link between reality and the terrible unknown, and long lines of constables strove to hold back the excited crowd, the noise of whose mutterings filled the air with an ominous drone.

Between these ranks of blue-clad men there came four surgeons, carrying on a stretcher a wreck of humanity who laughed insanely and rolled his head from side to side.

The crowd fell into an awed hush as the litter passed to the special train which was to convey this most important witness to a hospital. Next in public interest were the officers and men of the Esperanto, who, feeling themselves in the limelight, became each the center of great crowds, to whom they recounted as best they could the story of how the man was found.

The exact details of this as given by the captain of the Esperanto to the ministers of the cabinet who were summoned threw meager light upon the case. The Esperanto had gone out of her usual course, following the Gulf stream to the northward, until warned by an American cruiser to take a more easterly tack. She had done so, thus bringing her into a less frequented path of travel.

At ten o'clock in the morning, five days previous to her reporting at Fastnet, the man on the lookout had sighted an object which drew his attention, which at first he believed to be a mere piece of unattended wreckage tossing on the swell. He had notified the captain, who altered the ship's course and bore down upon it, only to learn that it was a life raft on which was a man. A boat was lowered, and it was found that the man in the boat was that of a British sailor, on whose cap, which had been thrust beneath a clench of the raft, were the words "H. M. S. Dreadnought." The man evidently had leaped himself so curiously before his strength had failed, knowing how small were his chances for rescue, and how certain his coming weakness. When picked up by the Esperanto he was thought to be dead; but being taken aboard he showed some signs of life, and after hours of work recovered sufficiently to give some slight hope of survival.

So terrible had been his sufferings from starvation that his mind seemed unhinged, and he had been unable to gather any information from him save that of some overwhelming disaster. He was now in the throes of brain fever, and talked only the speech of the delirious. His fragmentary mumblings were beyond all understanding; his mind seemed to be a confused jumble of hallucinations. In which he cried for water and made absurd comments on what was passing in his dreams. There were strange interwoven babblings of submarine boats, sea serpents and unheard of monsters which harried the ship and sent her to her doom. Pitiful exclamations of helplessness and fear, interjections of overwhelming dread, and brief snatches of prayer came from his lips throughout all the days in which they had attended him. The strangest part in all the incident of picking up the castaway was that the captain of the Esperanto, seeking other survivors, had cruised for hours in the vicinity; but had found no other sign of wreckage or of humanity. He had coursed to the northward, thinking it possible that the trend of the wind had driven this lone mariner away from the scene of catastrophe; but the ocean itself was a blank. The crest of no wave carried even a piece of flotsam, nor was there anywhere a clew to the mystery.

The rocking of the foundations of the world could have created no more suspense or terror than did the fear of this unknown agent of destruction which threatened the downfall of governments and the eradication of boundary lines. England suffered the woes of the bereaved in the certainty that thousands of men who were fathers, brothers, husbands or friends had been annihilated by this terrible republic across the sea. From every throat came a despairing cry for retaliation; but England, rich, mighty and powerful, felt herself without means of appeasing it. It was well enough to talk of revenge when the means were at hand; but the country in the face of this dread enemy was helpless, and so it was that the bitterness of defeat gave way to the hopelessness of terror when a calmer and more judicial spirit prevailed. It was beginning to be comprehended to the full that not only Great Britain in all her strength, but the combined forces of the world, would stand no chance of conducting even a defensive war against the United States—now become a swordfish ravaging and depopulating the seas.

In the meantime, while all this consternation prevailed and the heads of nations, fearful and trembling, speculated as to the outcome, the sailor from the Dreadnought was being watched and cared for by the most distinguished savants and specialists of the old world. There hovered over his bedside through every minute of the day men dispatched by every European power, who were doing all that science might suggest to bring this lone and stricken mariner back to sanity and let him give tongue to what he knew of this scourge of the waters. Hourly bulletins of his condition were posted on street corners, and round these stood men and women in suspense. His least word was recorded as of monumental importance, in the hope that from some cranny of his wrecked mind might come some elucidating phrase, however slight. The most important thing that apparently could be relied upon was that whatever the form of attack had been, it was observed before the blow was struck. This was shown by his repeatedly exclaiming: "It's coming! It's coming! It'll get us, sure, and we can't fight back!"

And so the nations watched by the bedside of a common sailor. From Japan came long messages of condolence to her ally, which were received in a spirit of fellow suffering.

The peculiarities of the situation were in nowise lessened by reports from Canada, where the troops still massed along the border maintained a friendly spirit, committed no acts of encroachment, showed no apprehension of war, and seemed as ignorant of their own government's plans or what it had done as were the Canadians themselves. Indeed, their mystification over the disappearance of the Japanese and British fleets was as complete as that of the most humble farmer on the Canadian frontier. Their officers, shocked by the terrible news, hastened to give statements to the effect that their instructions were to avoid giving offense, as the United States had no intention of engaging in war with Great Britain. Coupled with the loss of the fleet, these interviews seemed singularly inconsistent, it being impossible to reconcile annihilation on the sea and a cry for peace on land.

It was generally admitted in England that Canada was now in a helpless position and completely at the mercy of a well-drilled and well-equipped army along her borders, which was undoubtedly within constant reach of supplies and reinforcements. The futility of any attempt either to relieve or to aid her by sending more men across the Atlantic, now absolutely under the control of the Americans, was obvious. It began to appear to the British government that the United States was deliberately planning to take the dominion of Canada whenever she deemed the time opportune. That she could now do so at her own convenience was unquestioned.

An exasperating condition was the attitude of the Canadians themselves, who, as far as appearances went, were in a state of the utmost placidity. Indeed, the farmers along the border were prosperous and thriving through the increased demand for their supplies, which the American quartermasters purchased liberally, and for which they invariably paid American gold. It actually seemed as if an era of good feeling was being established across the boundary. The loss of the fleet threatened a rupture for a brief time; but the province, now convinced of the hopelessness of taking an active side either way, showed an inclination to stand aloof and remain absolutely neutral. It was agreed between the officials of the dominion and those of Great Britain that Canada could do nothing but endeavor as best she might to remain passive pending further developments.

This lack of partisanship proved anything but an assistance to Hillier in his attempt to break through the cordon, and it was this as much as anything else that hampered him in his mission.

ISSUE WARRANTS

For Delinquent License Payers if Not Settled.

Unless state licenses are paid in a short time there will be many warrants issued and prosecution follow, according to W. M. Husbands, state revenue agent. The state requires a license on dealers in playing cards, soft drink stands, dealers in merchandise and other articles that for many years has not been paid. Mr. Husbands does not desire to prosecute those who have been lax in paying as the penalty is quite heavy, but if the licenses are not paid in a short time there will be a wholesale issuance of warrants.

GROWING CROPS NOT DAMAGED BY HEAVY RAINS

All crops in McCracken county are reported in good condition. Farmers have been delayed greatly in planting and plowing by the rains, but what is out is in excellent shape. Last night's rain will mean another setback, but the downpour did not do any damage of consequence. For the past week the farmers have been busy planting, and have not been in the city.

The usual tobacco crop will be raised this year in McCracken unless unfavorable weather cuts the yield short. About two-thirds of the crop has been transplanted from the beds and in a short time all will be out. "Corn," said a farmer, "is as good as I ever saw it at this time. It is coming up well and its color and condition is good. Wheat, what little is in the county, looks good. All grasses are unusually fine this year. Clover and timothy are the best in several years."

The crop of blackberries will be a bumper crop this year. In every fence corner there are many of the bushes with the fruit beginning to ripen, and the size of the berries this year will be larger than in years. The strawberries have gone now, and the smaller fruits are up to the average. The orchards are showing up well and the apple and peach crop will be good.

LAUNCH PARTY HAS WILD EXPERIENCE

Caught in the storm last night a Paducah party did not return home until 2 o'clock this morning. In the gasoline launch, "Cutaway," in the party were Misses Claire St. John, Nellie Henneberger, Vera Johnston, Louise Jones, Cora Richardson, Charlie Warren and Mrs. James St. John, and Messrs. Henry Henneberger, D. Sutton, Will Anderson, Fred Kirkhaus and Edgar Warren. The party left Paducah at 7:30 o'clock in the launch and three miles above Metropolis the launch was caught in the wind and was nearly capsized. Luckily the party reached the Illinois shore, and for three hours the launch was tied safely to a tree. No one fell out of the boat during the rocking, but several of the boys had to wade in mud and water in order to tie the boat. After the waves had quieted the party bravely continued the trip and landed at Metropolis at 10:20 o'clock. The return trip was begun and the Paducah harbor was reached safely this morning at 2 o'clock. The river was rough, and the trip up stream required several hours.

FEDERATION ASKS

federation in the last year, making a total of 74 clubs now federated, with 8,573 members. She sent out 2,262 communications in the year.

The treasurer's report by Mrs. H. C. Muir, of Nicholasville, showed a balance in the treasury of $61.41. The receipts for the year were $1,091.84 and the disbursements were $1,030. Separate funds showed the traveling library has a balance of $59.32; the educational fund has a deficit of $225.93, and the forestry fund has no balance or deficit.

The credentials committee reported:

Shirts and neckwear are the keynote—the important thing about men's dress this summer. The colorings are entirely new and thoroughly attractive. For neckwear—Cornflower, coral, hyacinth, Nile and olive green. For shirts, light tan or corn color with stripes or white grounds with designs in color—but the variety is too bewildering for description. Prices from Mrs. Riker appointed a resolutions committee as follows: Mrs. Helmet, of Danville; Miss Lowry, of Paducah, and Mrs. Robinson, of Louisville. The amendment to the constitution which assesses a flat tax of 10 cents per capita for federation purposes, was committed to Mrs. Avery, Mrs. Clay and Miss Boyd for consideration, to be reported later in the meeting.

Adjourn to Church.
Finding the auditorium of the Woman's club building unable to accommodate the meeting, this afternoon's session is being held in the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church, where all subsequent business sessions will be held. Professor Klopper, of Cincinnati, will address the federation this afternoon on child labor. Two minute reports will be made from individual clubs, the arts and crafts committee will report, and Mrs. John Wirt Dinsmore will make an address on "Fireside Industries." This afternoon's session began at 2 o'clock.

The Hostesses.
Hostesses for the Woman's club building during the different sessions were appointed by Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, chairman of the reception committee, as follows: Wednesday, Mrs. A. R. Meyers and Mrs. Harry Meyer; Thursday morning, Mrs. Arch Sutherland and Mrs. R. G. Reynolds; Thursday afternoon, Mrs. I. O. Walker and Mrs. F. M. Fisher; Friday morning, Mrs. Frank Scott and Miss Helen Lowry.

Mothers and teachers will be interested in the manual training exhibit of the Louisville Free Kindergarten association at the club building under the direction of Mrs. Harry Whiteside. The doll house is an especially interesting exhibit and was made entirely by Louisville children. Four rooms are shown with complete suites of furniture. The exhibit is in the credentials room upstairs, where it can be seen any time. Thursday morning at 9 o'clock Mrs. Whiteside will meet the teachers in the city.

Invitations to the river ride this evening from 7 to 8 o'clock, were distributed this morning. Mrs. Mildred Davis, Mrs. Edmund Post and Miss Mattie Fowler are the hostesses and following the ride a musical of local talent will be given at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church, with a reception at 10 o'clock at the Woman's club building.

Indian Luncheon.

Mrs. George Langstaff designed and supervised the decorations for the Indian luncheon this morning, for the luncheon given at noon by the Delphi, Magazine and Kalesophie clubs, to the federation visitors and members of the six federated clubs. The Indian idea ran through the whole scheme, which included a wigwam covered with daisies, in the center of the room, an Indian head suspended from the ceiling with the pipe of peace, and branches from trees native to Kentucky, the sassafras, oak, maple, persimmon and gum.

A happy feature of the luncheon was a toast written by Mrs. Langstaff for the luncheon, as follows: Paducah, chieftain of his band. From out the happy hunting land; To you, pale faces, gathered here. To taste of our combined cheer, A hearty welcome gives. He offers you the pipe of peace. And hopes your efforts will increase The interest in our nation; And as the months and years go by. Not only we but the state will cry, "God bless the Federation."

The menu for the luncheon was: Chicken and brain patties, with cream sauce; tomatoes with mayonnaise and lettuce; sandwiches, olives and iced tea. The desert was leas and cakes.

The Reception.
Tennyson could have found the inspiration for his "Dream of Fair Women" at the opening reception last evening of the fourteenth annual meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Women's clubs at the Woman's club building. As damp as the exterior was, no adverse effect from the bad weather could be seen within except possibly in the point of attendance. The reception was notable for the new gowns shown, both by the visitors and the local club women.

This reception launched the meeting full blast into operation. The delegates and the local hostesses were introduced to one another and the first business session this morning opened as a meeting between acquaintances. The decorations and appointments of last evening's reception show the talent of Paducah women. Field daisies and June lilies were seen in the various rooms, representing the club colors, white and gold. The rostrum in the assembly room was banked with palms, interspersed with lilies, and on the piano was a bouquet of golden hyacinths. One large bunch of white roses and ferns was the floral decoration in the library.

Upstairs, the dining room was effective with daisies. Tables at either end of the room held large green baskets of daisies, tied at the Chicago, June 3.—Jimmy Sheppard, left fielder of the World's Champion Cubs, was blinded by an ammonia explosion, which probably will end his days on the baseball field. He is unable to see at all and though the doctors in attendance say he may be able to get back in the game in a few weeks, they admit that there is grave danger that the painful injury may permanently affect the player's eyes.

Death Was on His Heels.
Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

HEAT BEATS KAISER'S TROOPS.
Many Prostrated at Review of 30,000 Before Swedish King.

Berlin, June 3.—Emperor William gave King Gustav and Queen Victoria of Sweden a magnificent military show, the occasion being the annual spring parade of the garrisons of Berlin and neighboring stations. Thirty thousand troops maneuvered on the two square miles of the Tempelhof parade field. In consequence of the extreme heat many of the soldiers were overcome, notwithstanding the severe training, consisting of daily marches of from 15 to 25 miles, which they had undergone during the trial. Ambassador and Mrs. Tower were present.

There Are Few people who know how to take care of themselves—the majority do not. The liver is a most important organ in the body. Herbine will keep it in condition. V. C. ## NOBODY SPARED.

Kidney Troubles Attack Paducah Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years. Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman or child, is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Cure all forms of kidney suffering. John Stanley, farmer, living six miles south of Paducah, Ky., says: "My boy, aged 12 years, was a sufferer from weak kidneys for a number of years. He did not have any control over the kidney secretions, and this caused us much annoyance, especially at night. He complained of his back paining him and last summer his general health became run down. We had a doctor from Louisville treat him, but one week he would be better and the next worse. I had often read of Doan's Kidney Pills, so decided to give them a trial, and procured a supply at DuBois, Son & Co.'s drug store. The boy took them as directed and at the end of the first week he could control the secretions and the annoyance at night which had caused me so much worry, was removed. We continued to have him take Doan's Kidney Pills for three months when they made a complete cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

APPROPRIATIONS DURING CONGRESS BILLION DOLLARS

Washington, June 2.—When the first session of the Sixtieth Congress adjourns this week it will have made a record for prodigality in the matter of appropriations never before equaled. The exact figures will not be known for a day or two, but they will approximate $1,024,000,000.

This is the largest aggregate in the history of the government, an exceeds the sum appropriated by the famous "Billion-Dollar Congress" when Tom Reed was speaker of the house, and the aggregate of all the supply bills passed during both sessions almost touched the $1,000,000,000 mark.

The appropriations this session establish a new record for liberality, and exceed the high-water mark reached last year, when $943,000,000 was appropriated by $81,000,000.

Some of the Items.
Some of the big items that go to make up this prodigious total, and the bills which provide for the expenditures are: Sundry civil, $20,000,000; Postoffice, $222,000,000; pensions, $163,000,000; naval, $123,000,000; legislative, executive and judicial, $33,000,000; fortifications, $11,000,000; agriculture, $12,000,000; urgent deficiency, $26,000,000; general deficiency, $16,000,000; Indian, $9,000,000; public buildings, $26,000,000; District of Columbia, $11,000,000; diplomatic and consular, $4,000,000; permanent annual appropriations, such as interest on the public debt, etc., $154,000,000.

Will Be Deficit.
These stupendous appropriations are for the fiscal year which begins July 1, 1908, and while it is too early to give anything like an accurate estimate of the revenues of the government for that year, members of the appropriations committee and officials of the treasury feel certain they will fall far short of the appropriations. A rough estimate of the government's income for the next fiscal year, including postal receipts, it that it will be between $850,000,000 and $900,000,000. This would mean a deficit somewhere between $125,000,000 and $175,000,000. Several days ago Chairman Taft, of the house committee, warned the house that the deficit would reach $150,000,000.

Will Take Surplus.
If this prediction is fulfilled, there will be no surplus in the treasury by June 30, 1909. The cash that has been accumulated under the last three Republican administrations now amounts to something like $225,000,000. By June 30 of this year there will be a deficit for the fiscal year of $60,000,000 or $65,000,000, and this, with the prospective excess of outgo over income next year would wipe out the surplus.

These figures show how the needs of the general government have been growing and how liberal the national lawmakers have become in disbursing the people's money.
Make Heavy Demands.
The Democrats in congress have been as eager for appropriations as have the Republicans. In fact, the Republican chairmen of the appropriations committees have done more to check the prodigality than all the Democrats in the house a week or ten days ago. Representative Slayden (Dem.) of Texas, frankly stated that the Democrats would have to share the responsibility for the unprecedented appropriations, and in anticipation of the Democrats making extravagance an issue in the next campaign, the Republicans have already ordered hundreds of thousands of copies of Slayden's speech for circulation.

The certainty that the government's income will fall short of its expenditures for the next fiscal year will be food for very serious reflection for congress next winter. Then the question of revising tariff will be up, and if the revenues do not show a material increase many people who expect a reduction of present duties may be disappointed.

The government derives more than one-half of its net receipts from customs duties, and it would not be wise business to slash into this source of revenue. But should the duties be reduced materially at the special session which is now promised for next spring congress will be confronted with the necessity of creating new sources of income for the government.

Baseball Players and Foot Racers!
Louis J. Kruger, ex-champion long distance foot racer of Germany and Holland, writes, Oct. 27, 1907: "During my training of eight weeks' foot races at Salt Lake City, in April last, I used Ballard's Snow Liniment to my greatest satisfaction. Therefore, I highly recommend Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by J. H. Oehlischlager, Lang Bros., C. O. Ripley.

Food Kills Starving Man.
While Mrs. Alice Cahill and her 15-year-old son James were at dinner in their home, 498 Second avenue, a feeble knock sounded on the door. Mrs. Cahill opened the door and saw a famished-looking old man, his shabby clothes sodden with rain, shivering on the threshold.

"What is it?" she asked kindly. "I am hungry," replied the stranger. "I've had nothing to eat for two days."

"Come right in and eat all you want," said Mrs. Cahill. The old man refused to enter the room, but sat on the top step of the stair case and ravenously ate all that Mrs. Cahill brought him. After he had finished his meal James came out in the hall and found the man gasping on the floor. The boy in alarm called his mother.

"Pick me up my feet," said the man. Mrs. Cahill and her son lifted the man and started to take him downstairs, where they intended to call an ambulance. Even while he was unable to breathe without pain the old man's face bore a deprecating smile.

At the foot of the stairs the sufferer begged them to let him sit down. He sat there a moment trembling and whispered, "I'm awfully obliged for the meal, but I'm sorry to have disturbed you." Then he leaned over and died.

NIGHT RIDERS MADE HEROES

Floats Representing Them in Action Cheered.

Col. Lillard Tells of Augusta Tobacco Gathering—Gov. Willson Represented in Disgusting Attitude.

CONDITIONS HAVE CHANGED

Frankfort, Ky., June 3.—How bad were conditions in Bracken county before the soldiers took charge of affairs there and establish order has never been printed, and Col. E. W. Lillard, who was in Frankfort today, told of some things he saw there while he was in command of the troops. Colonel Lillard told of the parade which the Burley Tobacco society had at Augusta. He said that one float showed the governor of Kentucky in a ridiculous and disgusting position, and this was greeted with shouts of approval. Another float showed four masked men standing guard over a plant bed, while the bed was scraped by other masked men, and as a climax came a float which showed masked night riders in the act of hanging a man. The dummy which represented the man being hanged was made up to resemble a man in Bracken county who was known to be out of sympathy with the tobacco organization. In this parade there were 5,000 men and the scenes reproducing the night riders in action were applauded.

Soldiers Cursed.
Colonel Lillard said when his soldiers arrived there they were insulted and cursed as they walked down the street, and when a body of the men who had been in the town withdrew to the camp it was announced in the Bracken Chronicle that the soldiers were afraid and had retreated, probably never to come back. The good people of the county, who were not in sympathy with the lawlessness which prevailed, Colonel Lillard said, were afraid to open their mouths and would not talk, as they would be whipped if they did any talking, or even told what had been done to them.

With the advent of the soldiers, Colonel Lillard said, the citizens regained their courage and are now willing to tell what they know. Colonel Lillard said that with the soldiers in Bracken and after it had been shown that the soldiers could not be bluff, but were there to fight if necessary, it is possible to convict a large number of men who were guilty of the outrages perpetrated in that county. He says conditions are changing and it will be only a short time now until there can be trials and convictions.

Worst Element in Control.
The night riders, Colonel Lillard says, are not the better class and have passed out of the control of the men who organized the original night riders. But, he says, they had the county completely under their control and when J. Campbell Cantrell and others who spoke to the large gathering on the day of the parade and condemned lawlessness and the floats which would encourage night riding there was no expression of approval on the part of the crowd.

Several of the men from this county who were indicted in Shelby county on the charge of banding and confederating together to intimidate or molest persons were here today, coming into town to give themselves up. All of them have arranged for bail, and it is said that they can give bail to almost any amount with plenty of good and substantial citizens of this county to go on their bonds. The bench warrants from Shelby county had not arrived here today so no arrests were made, but the men indicted can be found at any time. They deny that they are guilty and say that they will be able to come clear without any trouble.

Has Ample Authority.
Adjutant-General Johnston, in explaining that the governor has a right to send troops into any county where he deems it necessary, with or without the request of the county officials, says that this principle was laid down by the court of appeals in the case involving the payment of troops ordered here by W. S. Taylor. Taylor had soldiers brought to Frankfort on his own initiative and the highest court decided that under the statute, it was a matter entirely in his discretion, and that he could send soldiers where he deemed them necessary with or without a request from the county officials. The governor was carefully advised long before he ever sent soldiers into the night-riden counties and acted with the discretion which is provided by law.

Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind

Amicable Relations Established.
Instead of treating the soldiers with contumely, as in the days when the troops were first used to put a stop to night riding, the soldiers and the members of the Burley Tobacco society are now fraternizing and in Shelby and Bracken counties, where there was greatest opposition to the use of the military, the farmers are showing the soldiers every courtesy. The soldiers in Shelby county even attended the meeting of the Burley Tobacco society on last Saturday night. In Bracken county farmers for miles around visited the military company, bringing their wives and daughters, and it was said here that it looked more like a country fair than a military camp.

In Shelby county Saturday night an invitation was extended to Captain Norman and his men to attend a meeting. Captain Norman went. When he walked into the hall, alone, the farmers began talking to him about coming alone, and asked him where his soldiers were. Captain Norman went to the door and gave a signal and the soldiers, with their arms ready, filed into the hall, much to the surprise of the farmers. Captain Norman had instructed his men to be ready in case of emergency after he went into the meeting. The meeting was a pleasant one and the soldiers were treated well.

It was the first meeting between the soldiers and the Burley society men, and it is believed that the relations between them will now be more cordial. The detail is still on duty in Shelby county, but it is believed that the trouble is over there.

I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at all druggists. 50c.

New Words for "Dixie."

Verd, o eff-y quty, seS 12345 123121
Women of the Confederate Choir of America have officially fitted new words to the tune of "Dixie." The old words, they say, are not suited to the grandeur of the song or the cause for which it sings. Confederate veterans condemn the change.

The new stanzas are:

O Dixie land is the land of glory,
The land of cherished song and story.
Look away, look away, look away,
Dixie land.

'Tis the land that patriots love to dwell in,
The land our fathers fought and fell in.
Look away, look away, look away,
Dixie land.

I'm glad I live in Dixie, hurrah, hurrah, (Rest of chorus unchanged)

The blue and gray went out to battle,
And loud they made war's thunder rattle.
Look away, look away, look away,
Dixie land.

Our cause we lost, but won a glory
Which still will last when time is hoary.
Look away, look away, look away,
Dixie land.

SPIRITED DEBATE ON MANUAL TRAINING

Between Superintendent and Member at Board Meeting.

Committee Will Investigate Proposition and Report to Board at July Meeting.

SUPT. CARNAGEY'S REPORT.

The question of inaugurating an annual training system in the city schools was deferred until the July meeting by the school board last night, and although Mr. Walston strenuously opposed the introduction of such a course into the schools it is believed a good majority will favor it when up for a final settlement.

Supt. Carnagey submitted to the board the proposition of the American Manual Training association to furnish its course on very reasonable terms and without expense whatever if at the end of three months the board and faculty were dissatisfied with the plan. If acceptable the charge would be $100 per year for a course for 20 boys and $3 for each additional member of the class. The school board to furnish tools and benches, and according to the superintendent's statement, the alumni association has the money to buy the tools while the custodian of the buildings would make the benches at practically no expense.

Mr. Walston thought that the school was a place for the training of the mind only, and that the training in mechanical arts and domestic industry should be given at the home. This brought out a spirited reply from Supt. Carnagey, who said that "book learning amounted to nothing unless the child's hands were trained to work with the mind." He said that the schools all over the country were awakening to the fact that the time was near at hand when the country would be practically saved by industry. It was finally decided to defer action on the matter until the July meeting.

The question of allowing the graduating class diplomas in the middle of the school term was discussed at length, some of the members opposing two graduations in a year for the reason that two commencements were too expensive. Supt. Carnagey said the graduate should have his diploma in January, if entitled to it, but that did not mean two commencements would be held.

The superintendent's monthly report showed the average daily attendance for May to be 2,954. The number of cases of tardiness, 480, corporal punishment none. The schools have an enrollment to May 31 of 3,800.

It was directed that the seats for the commencement go on sale at the Kentucky theater box office Wednesday morning.

Supt. Carnagey's Report.
Honorable School Board—Gentlemen: I submit herewith my statistical report, for the month ending May 22, 1908:

The month's work has been good, and the attendance of both teachers and pupils has been fairly regular. As shown on this report, the average daily attendance for the month is 2,954, the number of cases of tardiness 480, the number of cases of corporal punishment, none. There were four cases of truancy, and three suspensions, all of whom were re-instated. The records show a total enrollment to May 22nd, or 3,800. The school's work in studies has been practically finished, as the last two weeks of the year are devoted to reviews and examinations.

I submit herewith a proposition from the American Manual Training company, of Chicago, to introduce manual training, upon certain conditions, in the school. I recommend that their proposition be accepted. We can in the three months' trial, practically without cost to the board, get an idea of the possibilities of the subject, and the best way to make it a permanent feature of our school work. I wish to recommend also that the resolution herewith submitted, exempting teachers from examinations under certain conditions therein set forth, be adopted by the board.

Very truly,
J. A. CARNAGEY, Supt.
Resolution Adopted.
The board adopted the resolution recommended by Supt. Carnagey as follows:

Resolved, That any teacher who has had three or more years of successful experience in teaching, one of which shall have been in the Paducah public schools, and holding a certificate to teach, granted by the board of examiners, of the Paducah public schools, good either for two, three or four years, may have such certificates extended from year to year under the following conditions:

By submitting evidence of attendance at, and successful work done in, summer schools of not less than six weeks in length, and by taking and reading one or more good professional journals, and by reading each year, not less than two books approved by the superintendent, and submitting a written thesis on some book or educational subject, together with such other evidence of professional interest and growth as is required by the superintendent.

Speaking of the beautiful $42 watch up for a special prize to the most vigorous contestant this week, one of the lady candidates reminded the contest man of the old Greek story of Atalanta and asked him to tell it to the rest of the jolly bunch of folks who are striving in generous rivalry for a fair division of the $2,000.

Atlanta—no relation to the Geo-gia metropolis—was a Greek princess of mythological times and lived on one of the unpronounceable islands in an unpronounceable sea. She was fair and fleet and sweet. Therefore there were many unpronounceable Greek princes who wanted to marry her.

But Atalanta was an anachronistic Bachelor Girl and would have none of them. And she had an easy and distasteful way of getting rid of them. Suitors were obliged to run a foot-race with her. If they won, they were to have her. If they lost, their heads were gently but firmly severed from their love-lorn carcasses.

All of them lost—nevertheless Ata. was at a premium in the marimonial market. All of her living lovers were constantly training for the race and dickered with the life-insurance agents.

Finally along came a fair youth who was short-legged but long-headed. He looked at Ata, then read the bulletins regarding the amazing death rate of the community. He wanted the girl but he wanted his head also.

So he called on Old Lady Venus in her summer villa at Olympus and asked her assistance in the love race.
He had decided to run. O. L. V.
was and is a Wise One.

She went to her wardrobe trunk and took there from the contents three golden apples, and told the fair youth how to use them.

The F. Y. went to the House by the Cinder Path where dwelt the athletic princess. A match was soon arranged and a preacher and an undertaker secured for the celebration after the race.

The starter whistled on his finger and the matrimonial runners sprang forward the goal.
Of course Atlanta forged ahead
The Fair Youth expected that she would. That's what he had the golden apples for. When she was about forty yards in the lead the youth hurled a golden apple with such accuracy that it alongside the flying princess.

She saw the glitter and stopped to plek it up. Women like that shiny yellow color if it's real. Meantime the fair youth had caught up with her and secured a nice lead. She had to hurry.

When Atlanta got ahead again another golden apple stopped her flight.
The third and last prize was cast just as she neared the goal—and the youth won the race and the princess.

The only difference between those golden apples and the watch offered is this: Atalanta lost because she stopped to plek up the special prize;
in this case the contestant who picks up the special as he runs will be all the more apt to win the big race.
Remember there are a lot of bonus votes that go to the busy people working for the special this week—more of a bonus than will be given at any time later.

If Atlanta wasn't the name of the princess call 358, either phone, and tell the contest man about it.

Bring It In Every Day.
A lady called up last night and wanted to know if she should reserve
this week's collections till Saturday.
No, bring them in every day or every time you are down town. Everything you turn in all week will be carefully recorded and counted in your score for the finish of the special prize period.

The Paducah Sun's Great Popularity Contest began with the official announcement on May 23 and will close on the great national holiday,
July 4. That makes exactly six weeks.
There will be no extension of the time of the contest. When it's over it's over, and the happy, lucky ones will be lugging home deeds for real estate, orders for fine furniture, rare jewels and a bunch of other things.

Who Are Eligible?
Any white person, man or woman,
of good character, residing in the territory covered by The Sun may become a candidate for the honors and the prizes in The Paducah Sun's Greatest Popularity Contest.

Duration—Awards.
The contest starts with today's announcement and will continue till July 4, at 9 p. m., at which time a committee of well-known and trustworthy citizens will be chosen to determine who are entitled to the prizes.
